

GENERAL

The GDPR states that the controller and the processor shall designate a data protection officer in any case where:

- a) the processing is carried out by a public authority or body, except for courts acting in their judicial capacity;
- b) the core activities of the controller or the processor consist of processing operations which, by virtue of their nature, their scope and/or their purposes, require regular and systematic monitoring of data subjects on a large scale; or
- c) the core activities of the controller or the processor consist of processing on a large scale of special categories of data pursuant to Article 9 and personal data relating to criminal convictions and offences referred to in Article 10.
